

IDENTIFICATION

Department	Position Title
Northwest Territories Health and Social Services Authority	Registered Midwife
Position Number	Community	Division/Region
48-11237	Fort Smith	Acute Care/Fort Smith Region

PURPOSE OF THE POSITION

The Registered Midwife is an autonomous primary care practitioner with hospital privileges who will provide residents of the Northwest Territories (NWT) with specialized prenatal, intrapartum, postpartum and neonatal health care including health assessment, diagnosis, intervention and follow up care in accordance with the NWT Midwifery Profession Act and midwifery regulatory framework. This position provides culturally safe, relationship-based midwifery services that contribute to the achievement of optimal maternal / child health outcomes in the NWT.

SCOPE

The Northwest Territories Health and Social Services Authority (NTHSSA) is the single provider of all health and social services in the Northwest Territories (NWT), with the exception of Hay River and Tlicho regions, covering 1.2 million square kilometers and serving approximately 43,000 people, including First Nations, Inuit, Metis, and non-indigenous persons. Health and social services include the full range of primary, secondary, and tertiary health services and social services including family services, protection services, care placements, mental health, addictions, and developmental activities, delivered by more than 1,400 HSS staff.

Under the direction of the Minister of Health and Social Services, the NTHSSA was established to move toward one integrated delivery system as part of the Government of the Northwest Territories (GNWT) transformation strategy. The NTHSSA sets clinical standards, procedures, guidelines and monitoring for the entire NWT. While the Tłı̨chǫ Community Services Agency (TCSA) operates under a separate board, and Hay River Health and Social Services Agency (HRHSSA) remains separate in the interim, Service Agreements will be established with these boards to identify performance requirements and ensure adherence to clinical standards, procedures, guidelines and policies as established by the NTHSSA.

Located in Fort Smith, the Registered Midwife reports to the Regional Manager, Acute Care. As a credentialed practitioner with Midwifery Privileges granted in accordance with the NTHSSA Medical and Professional Staff Bylaws, the incumbent is also accountable to their Area Medical Director for clinical practice.

The Registered Midwife practices in compliance with the Midwifery Profession Act and Regulations, the NWT Midwifery Practice Framework, the Code of Conduct, Standards of Practice, and Continuing Competence Program for Registered Midwives in the NWT, Territorial Midwifery Program Standards, and the strategic goals of the GNWT health care system. The position functions in accordance with the philosophy, objectives, and policies and procedures of the NTHSSA and the Territorial Midwifery Program.

The Registered Midwife is a member of the Fort Smith team of the Territorial Midwifery Program. As an autonomous practitioner, the incumbent is identified as the most responsible provider for a case load of clients and works collaboratively with other practitioners and healthcare providers. The position functions in association with interdisciplinary primary health teams in Fort Smith and within an integrated territorial women and children's health team. The position provides continuity of care within the context of a small team of midwives and ensures coordinated delivery of care within an integrated network of community, regional, and territorial health services. The Registered Midwife will, at times, be exposed to fetal or neonatal loss such as with miscarriage, stillbirth and sudden infant death. The midwife is expected to remain calm, controlled and professional in all situations and demonstrate compassionate care to the client, family and other members of the health care team. The incumbent provides services mainly to clients in the Fort Smith region and occasionally to clients in other regions. The incumbent will also contribute to the development of the Territorial Midwifery Program.

The NTHSSA - Fort Smith Region is responsible for the effective delivery of Primary and Emergent Health Care and Social Services to approximately 2,500 residents of Fort Smith and the surrounding area. The Regional facilities include one type C Health Facility and a 28 Bed Long Term Care Facility.

RESPONSIBILITIES

WORKING CONDITIONS

Physical Demands

50-75% of the incumbent's day will require the incumbent to stand or be mobile for extended periods of time, assuming awkward positions while providing clinical assessment and care to clients, lifting and positioning clients, at times exerting substantial physical effort. During labour and delivery the incumbent will need to respond quickly to changes and shifts in a patients' position while laboring/delivering and catching a newborn.

When providing care at a home visit, the incumbent is frequently carrying supplies and/or equipment up and down stairs as well as into and out of a vehicle. Due to the nature of providing midwifery care at births, the incumbent at these times may be unable to take meals or regularly scheduled breaks.

Environmental Conditions

While providing clinical care, the incumbent will be exposed to communicable diseases, blood and body fluids, human waste, and hazardous materials (sharps, toxic cleaning and sterilizing solutions). In addition, while performing home visits the incumbent may encounter unsanitary conditions, pets, second-hand smoke, and other allergens

Sensory Demands

50-75% of the incumbent's day will be spent providing direct client care where the incumbent is required to use the combined senses of sight, touch, smell, observations and hearing during client assessment and the provision of clinical care. These demands are heightened in intensity and prolonged when monitoring labor and conducting births. The incumbent must be able to recognize and respond to the different warning and monitoring indicators (including physical signs and symptoms, sensory data, laboratory data, as well as the output of mechanical maternal and fetal monitors) in order to make clinical judgments and decisions to ensure appropriate and timely client care.

Mental Demands

The work environment is dynamic and frequently changing. The position responds to multiple overlapping demands and deadlines, shifting priorities, and frequent interruptions on a daily basis. The incumbent is required, at unpredictable times, to respond without warning to urgent or emergent situations which may include emotionally intense or upsetting experiences. As a clinician, the incumbent takes responsibility for making prompt judgments and timely decisions, to support the safety and well-being of clients.

When on-call, the position responds to the unpredictable needs of clients and other healthcare providers, both during and outside of normal work hours, which are necessarily prioritized over the incumbent's own personal needs or those of their family. On-call responsibilities may entail unpredictable hours and from time to time long consecutive hours during which the incumbent must remain alert and attentive to an ever changing clinical situation with potential for sudden management of life-threatening emergencies.

KNOWLEDGE, SKILLS AND ABILITIES

- Knowledge of the NWT Midwifery Profession Act, the NWT Midwifery Practice Framework, and the Standards of Practice for Registered Midwives in the NWT in order to practice in compliance with the model and standards of practice.
- Knowledge of the NTHSSA Medical and Professional Staff Bylaws and other legislation and departmental directives related to the provision of health and social services in the NWT (including but not limited to the Hospital Insurance and Health and Social Services Administration Act, Hospital and Healthcare Facility Standards, Health Information Act, and Vital Statistics Act).
- Knowledge of Indigenous health issues, including the history and legacy of residential schools, the United Nations Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples, Treaties and Aboriginal rights, regional Indigenous teachings and practices, and the way in which culture and community impact the experience of health care.
- Knowledge of and an ability to apply, in a variety of settings, current evidence-informed midwifery best practice and a culturally safe, human rights-based approach to the provision of maternity care and reproductive health services.
- Knowledge and ability to use tools and technology appropriately in order to provide safe and effective care to clients (including but not limited to fetal monitors, oxygen delivery, diagnostic sampling techniques, incubators, phototherapy equipment, and neonatal resuscitation and intubation equipment).
- Knowledge of and an ability to apply health promotion principles and strategies, in order to provide education, health promotion and counselling to women, their families and the community.
- Knowledge of and an ability to apply principles of adult education in order to participate in and deliver orientation and training to health professionals and allied health workers.

- Knowledge, skills, and ability to utilize a computer and the internet in order to acquire, manage, and disseminate information related to midwifery practice, including the maintenance of electronic medical records.
- Interpersonal skills and the ability to communicate and function effectively within health care teams.
- Skills and ability to identify and work collaboratively with resources within the Authority, the community, and the territorial health and social services organization in order to ensure appropriate care and support to clients and their families.
- Ability to demonstrate cultural competency in the provision of culturally safe care.
- Ability to commit to actively upholding and consistently practicing personal diversity, inclusion and cultural awareness, as well as safety and sensitivity approaches in the workplace.

Typically, the above qualifications would be attained by:

A Baccalaureate degree in Midwifery (Health Sciences), or assessed through a Prior Learning and Experience Assessment (PLEA) program within a Canadian province, with a minimum of two (2) years' experience in delivering midwifery care as a primary care provider.

Equivalent combinations of education and experience will be considered.

ADDITIONAL REQUIREMENTS

- Proof of immunization in keeping with current public health practices
- Standard First Aid, CPR (level C)
- Valid driver's license.

The job candidate must be eligible for professional licensing in accordance with the Midwifery Profession Act and must be credentialed and eligible for privileges in accordance with the Medical and Professional Staff Bylaws.
